Most Important Shot:

The Canadian Skip JONES J played a very precise Draw to the button to lay two. It forced the Swedish Fourth PRYTZ M to execute a Raise on this stone to score only one. She was a little tight and missed her last stone giving Canada a steal of two and 6-3 lead in the game.

Canada celebrate curling's flawless golden girls

Thursday, 20 February 2014 - 20:56

SOCHI - Jennifer JONES' Canada is the first women's curling team to win an Olympic Winter Games title unbeaten following its 6-3 victory over Sweden in the gold medal game at the Ice Cube Curling Centre on Thursday.

The win, Canada's 11th of the competition, not only made it the first women's team from its NOC to become Olympic curling champion since the late Sandra SCHMIRLER (CAN) took gold at Nagano 1998, but also matched the achievement of Kevin MARTIN's (CAN) unbeaten men's team from Vancouver 2010.

Sweden had won the last two gold medals at Torino 2006 and Vancouver four years ago and, unfortunately for Swedish skip Margaretha SIGFRIDSSON (SWE), she was again left feeling second best. Before Sochi, she had been the bridesmaid at four world championships.

Sweden fourth Maria PRYTZ played the shot of the game's first half, with a neat angled raise on a Canadian guard that left her stone on the button for a single in the second end, but the scores were level at 3-3 going into the mid-game break.

JONES blanked ends six and seven after the break, waiting for a chance to take a decisive lead. However, she had to settle for one in the eighth end when her last-stone draw was just too short to add a second.

The game turned in Canada's favour the following end with a two-point steal after they were able to fill the house with stones and force a last-stone draw error from PRYTZ that made the score 6-3 with an end to play.

JONES ran Sweden out of stones in the final end to seal gold.

Canada could now become the first NOC to sweep the men's and women's titles at a single Olympic Winter Games when the men's team of Brad JACOBS faces Great Britain for gold on Friday.

In the day's earlier session, Great Britain's women's team became curling's youngest Olympic Winter Games medallist with a 6-5 bronze medal game victory against Switzerland.

Eve MUIRHEAD's Great Britain team has an average age of 23 years and 255 days, younger than China's women's team, who won bronze at Vancouver 2010 with an average age of 25 years and 140 days.

It meant Switzerland skip Mirjam OTT failed in her latest attempt to be the first curler to win three Olympic Winter Games medals following silvers at Salt Lake 2002 and Torino 2006.

Great Britain's young guns fire to seal women's curling bronze

Thursday, 20 February 2014 - 15:59

SOCHI - Great Britain's women's team is curling's youngest Olympic Winter Games medallist following a 6-5 victory against Switzerland that clinched bronze at the Ice Cube Curling Centre on Thursday.

Eve MUIRHEAD's (GBR) 2013 world champion Great Britain line-up has an average age of just 23 years and 255 days, eclipsing China, which won bronze at Vancouver 2010 with an average age of 25 years and 140 days.

The record was achieved against the competition's oldest skip, 42-year-old Mirjam OTT (SUI), the four-time Olympian, who failed in her latest bid to be the first curler to win a third Olympic Winter Games medal following silvers at Salt Lake 2002 and Torino 2006.

It is the second consecutive Winter Games that OTT's Switzerland team has finished fourth, losing out to China 12-6 in the bronze medal game four years ago.

Switzerland, who started with the hammer thanks to its round-robin win over Great Britain earlier in the tournament, blanked the first end before taking an early advantage with two in the second through OTT's first-stone double takeout that gave her control of the house.

After an exchange of ones in the third and fourth ends, skip MUIRHEAD set up a score of two with her own first-stone double takeout to make it 3-3 at the mid-game break.

After forcing OTT to a takeout single in the sixth end, Great Britain blanked the seventh in an effort to switch the hammer order and have the game's final stone.

The second part of Great Britain's plan came in the eighth end when it scored two points to take a 5-4 lead, with MUIRHEAD drawing her last stone for the second after OTT's double was too thin and only removed one.

Great Britain forced Switzerland to a single in the ninth and kept the house clean in the last end, which allowed MUIRHEAD a last-stone draw for victory. It was Great Britain's first Olympic curling medal since current women's coach Rhona HOWIE (MARTIN) took gold at Salt Lake City 2002.

NOTE
The Draw Shot Challenge (DSC) is the average distance of the Last Stone Draws (LSD) which were played by a team during the round robin. The single least favourable LSD result is automatically eliminated before calculating this average distance. The team with the lesser DSC receives the higher ranking.
For teams with equal DSC, the team with the best non-equal LSD receives the higher ranking. In case all LSD are equal, the team ranked higher in the WCF World Ranking is ranked higher.

Most Important Shot:

The Swedish Fourth PRYTZ M makes a delicate Draw to the button, hidden along the centre line with her first stone. The Japanese Skip's attempt to follow her was heavy, so the Swedish Fourth was able to draw again with her second stone and have both stones count, opening up a 4-2 lead.

Canada's men storm to golden curling triple and double

Friday, 21 February 2014 - 20:19

SOCHI - Canada became the first NOC to sweep men's and women's curling at the same Olympic Winter Games when its men's team won the gold medal with a 9-3 victory over Great Britain at the Ice Cube Curling Centre on Friday.

The men's team added a second Sochi 2014 curling title after Canada's women's team won gold on Thursday, while victory also continued Canada's run of consecutive Olympic gold medals in men's curling after titles for the teams of Kevin MARTIN at Vancouver 2010 and Russ HOWARD at Torino 2006.

Canada raced into a 6-1 lead after four ends, putting Great Britain's takeout play under a lot of pressure by keeping lots of its stones in play around the four-foot to get scores of two and three with its hammers while restricting Great Britain to a single on its first hammer.

Canada compounded Great Britain's slow start by stealing a point in the fourth end when David MURDOCH's (GBR) final-stone draw only glanced the shot against him and rolled out. MURDOCH was at least able to grab a single with his final stone in the fifth end to leave Canada 6-2 ahead at the mid-game break.

Things didn't improve for Great Britain after the break. A Brad JACOBS (CAN) first-stone double takeout set up a score of two in the sixth end for an 8-2 lead, and when MURDOCH's last-stone takeout for two in the seventh end went wrong and he lost his own stone to score only a single, Great Britain's title hopes disappeared.

JACOBS' last-stone takeout for one and a 9-3 lead in the eighth end drew Great Britain's concession and Canada was the champion.

Despite defeat, silver still represented the NOC's best men's Olympic curling result since winning gold in the first tournament at Chamonix 1924. In addition, the silver medal also confirmed that Great Britain has equalled its best overall Olympic Winter Games performance, from Chamonix 1924, with one gold, one silver and two bronze medals.

In the day's earlier session, Sweden finally broke the men's curling world champion curse, winning Olympic Winter Games bronze by stealing two in the extra end for a 6-4 victory over China.

No reigning champion had previously won an Olympic Winter Games medal the year after its title, but Niklas EDIN's Sweden team ended the jinx with its win over China while also avoiding double Olympic disappointment, after finishing fourth at Vancouver 2010.

China had the advantage over the final ends, but hogline violations by skip LIU Rui (CHN) in the ninth end and third XU Xiaoming (CHN) in the extra end undermined its challenge and allowed Sweden the opportunity to snatch victory.

Sweden's men break curling curse as China make a hog of it

Friday, 21 February 2014 - 16:12

SOCHI - Sweden finally broke the men's curling world champion curse, winning Olympic Winter Games bronze by stealing two in the extra end for 6-4 victory over China at the Ice Cube Curling Centre on Friday.

No reigning champion had previously won an Olympic Winter Games medal the year after its title, but Niklas EDIN's Sweden team ended the jinx with its win over China and also avoided double Olympic disappointment, after finishing fourth at Vancouver 2010.

China had the advantage over the final ends, but hogline violations by skip LIU Rui (CHN) in the ninth end and third XU Xiaoming (CHN) in the extra end undermined its challenge, allowing Sweden the opportunity to snatch victory.

With neither team giving up more than a single, the first half of the game was tight, but skip LIU gave himself a multiple-point chance in the fifth end with a spectacular runback double that left him with two and only skips' last stones to play. EDIN then produced his own double to clear the house and forced LIU to blank the end, giving Sweden a 2-1 lead at the mid-game break.

China scored the game's first double in the sixth end and then gained a slight advantage in the game after restricting Sweden to a single in the seventh, getting control of the house when third Sebastian KRAUPP (SWE) lost his own stone in a difficult takeout attempt that cleared the house.

China blanked the eighth end to keep the score at 3-3 and had control of the ninth end until LIU's hogline violation that removed his first stone from play. The China skip was eventually forced to take a single with his last stone for a 4-3 lead going into the 10th end.

Sweden gained a single in the 10th end on a measure to give China the hammer in the extra end, but after lead Viktor KJAELL (SWE) set up a perfect centre guard for Sweden, China third XU lost a chance to clear it for his skip with a first-stone hogline violation. LIU was unable to beat Sweden's shot stones with either of his draws and Sweden stole two points for the bronze.

NOTE
The Draw Shot Challenge (DSC) is the average distance of the Last Stone Draws (LSD) which were played by a team during the round robin. The single least favourable LSD result is automatically eliminated before calculating this average distance. The team with the lesser DSC receives the higher ranking.
For teams with equal DSC, the team with the best non-equal LSD receives the higher ranking. In case all LSD are equal, the team ranked higher in the WCF World Ranking is ranked higher.

Most Important Shot:

The Canadian Skip JACOBS B made with his last stone an excellent Draw to the four foot on top of his own stone already sitting in the four foot. Like this he made it almost impossible for the US Skip SHUSTER B to score with his last stone and stole one to win the game.
